YOUTH ESSAY CONTEST

“Who benefits from a waterhole project and why?”

The ADBSS is currently sponsoring ten youths to attend the Wild Sheep Foundation/Boone & Crockett Outdoor Adventure Camp at Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Ranch in Montana this summer. Located about two hours from Great Falls, the TRM Ranch is at the Montana Rocky Mountain front. The Outdoor Adventure Camps teach young people outdoor skills, like shooting, fly-tying, and wildlife identification, as well as a greater appreciation for conservation and natural resources. The camp will afford these youths a unique opportunity to gain hands-on experience and knowledge in a natural setting

To select the ten deserving youths, we are conducting an essay contest on the theme: “Who benefits from a waterhole project, and why?” We invite all ADBSS members to encourage a youth they know, between 11-18 year of age, to enter our essay contest to be eligible for an all expense paid trip to the Outdoor Adventure Camp.

The lucky winners of the essay contest will be provided with air transportation from Phoenix Sky Harbor Airport to Montana, ground transportation to the camp, and a return flight from Montana to Phoenix. ADBSS will also pay the camp registration fee, which includes equipment, supplies, meals and lodging at the camp.
